TROY STATE UNIVERSITY

Troy, AL 36082

Sherrer Grammer and Beth Byrne prove there are people of different ages who love TSU.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Hawkins Jr. overlook Homecoming festivities.

DARE TO BE DIFFERENT...
 what exactly does it mean?
 Across the campus of TSU, it symbolizes a variety of things:
 different activites, different majors, different sororities and fraternities, different sports and,
 most important, different people.
 Everyone at TSU is an unique individual , but they share one thing in common: Troy State University.

Students at TSU walk to different classes throughout the day.

TSU students find many different places to study, such as the top of the Adams Center or Wallace Library.

different: the condition or degree of being unlike, dissimilar, or diverse; disparity; variation; distinct; separate; unique

STUDENT LIFE

Daring Differences

Although most colleges have similarities, Troy State University was a campus filled with daring differences. Throughout the past year, changes continued.

The new year brought tailgating at home football games while extra seating was necessary to accommodate the increased attendance.

Upon registration, students were surprised to receive a new four-year identification card. The Trojan Card served as a debit card to be used for expenses on campus.

The Troy State family welcomed Dr. Charlotte Davis, vice president of Student Affairs. Her arrival brought many productive changes such as staff reorganization and student committees.

With knowledge, encouragement and participation, TSU continued changing and daring to be different.

Trivia

What looks like a simple rock could be the foundation for a promising relationship.

Historical events as well as interesting facts can be found on the campus of TSU. Incorporated with the motto "Offering a quality education, one student at a time, all around the world," 10 international flags flew representing Troy State's influence around the globe. Located between Wallace Hall and the Adams Center was a small memorial to Foy Ingram Cummings. Some believe that by rubbing the noses of the children's faces with the heel of the foot provides good luck. Near the main quad of TSU, rests the kissing rock. When a couple share a kiss over the rock, they can count on a long lasting relationship. The university system extends beyond the obvious to offer TSU Trivia.

The united flags of Troy State honor each country and campus.

Children's noses provide good luck and a wish come true.

Eventful Happenings

Newly elected President Bill Clinton brings a Democratic difference to the White House.

Bush and Quayle leave office well respected.

Ross Perot displays independence Texas style.

U.S. troops provide safety and relief aid in Somalia.

The year was filled with eventful happenings locally, state, nationally and internationally. Students became more involved in current events and took great interest in important happenings.

Nationally, the main area of interest was the Presidential Election. International events that grabbed the attention of our campus were areas of worldwide political unrests.

Throughout the state the main source of news was the impeachment of Governor Guy Hunt due to violations of the state code of ethics. And, locally the news centered around the opening of a new restaurant on fast food row and the celebration of the city of Troy's 150th Anniversary.

Hurricane Iniki's twenty-foot waves result in power loss throughout Kauai.

Mayor Jimmy Lunsford celebrates Troy's 150th anniversary by hanging the Sesquicentennial flag.

Eventful Happenings

Dr. Glenda McGaha becomes President of Troy State in Montgomery.

Guy Hunt

As the first Governor in Alabama history to be impeached, Guy Hunt made state-wide headlines over the course of the past year.

The former Governor was brought up for charges concerning the state Ethics Code where he was accused of using campaign funds for personal use. He continued to claim innocence and after being sentenced filed for an appeal. Hunt's sentence included paying back the money he owed the state and a thousand hours of community service.

Checkers drive-thru joins 'fast food row' and becomes a community hit.

Faculty As Family

Troy State seemed to attract similar people both as students and as faculty members. Similar in that these people not only shared the campus, but they also shared their home. In many classrooms and offices on campus, husbands and wives share the same enthusiasm and eagerness for Troy State.

For example, Dr. David Dye of the performing arts department and Dr. Judith Dye from the school of education have been dedicated professors at TSU. English professor Michael Orlofsky and music educator, Dr. Diane DeNicola-Orlofsky recently were married and have successfully balanced their careers and home life. After meeting when they were students at TSU, Ron and Susan Pierce contribute to the university as the Adams Center Director and a university counselor.

These faculty members, as well as several others, continued the tradition and fulfilled the motto of TSU being "Alabama's family and friendliest campus."

Workout Wonders

Working out became a major concern among Troy State students as they participated in various activities. Some students dove into fitness at the university pool and natatorium, while others were on the right track with jogging and speed walking. During the school year, a new gym opened in Troy which offered aerobics classes and weight training facilities. Students came to realize that with a healthy mind a successful student also needed a healthy body.

Weather Warnings

Nothing was as unpredictable as the weather in Troy. Weather warnings were issued throughout the year and each season brought about daring differences.

During fall quarter a flash flood watch was extended to Pike County followed by a tornado. The tornado caused extensive damage to Smith Hall- tearing off the roof and flooding the auditorium.

Just like every other January, students supplied themselves with a raincoat, umbrella and duck boots. Everyone knew to be prepared for the dreary weather of winter quarter. However, as of 6 a.m. on March 13th, the entire city was covered in approximately 5 inches of snow. Students slid down hills on garbage can lids, cafeteria trays or laundry baskets. Snowmen cropped up and snowball fights were the weekend pastime. The blizzard of 1993 made its way to South Alabama.

As spring approached students sought suntans, outdoor sports and beach trips. But they would never forget the weather that came in as fierce as a lion and left as white as a lamb.

The snowfall transforms Troy State's campus into a Winter Wonderland.

A tornado damaged the roof of Smith Hall as well as several students' cars in the parking lot.

Students don their rain gear for nasty weather.

A February snow storm brings new fun for students.

A Style All Your Own

One area in school where students dared to be different was fashion. The clothing worn from day to day represented personality, mood and style. Some students modeled the "preppy" look with Duckheads, a Polo or a wrap around skirt and sweater. As for others, comfort was a priority while sporting cut-offs, Umbros, college t-shirts, flip-flops or Tevas. Sleeveless sundresses and leather sandals became a part of many Spring wardrobes. Men and women alike were found wearing woven leather accessories year round. When it came to fashion at TSU, students created a style all their own.

Taking a break, students each have their own style and taste.

Comfort is a key aspect of a woman's attire.

Fall Brings

Chancellor Hawkins welcomes freshmen to Troy State at the first Freshmen Convocation picnic.

Freshmen

As the leaves of fall turn colors, our campus overflowed with colorful new personalities. Each September brought new faces to Troy State University. Freshmen began a journey of changing seasons and new experiences.

Before beginning school in the fall, most freshmen attended Pre-College Orientation sessions offered by TSU. These sessions educated incoming students about life as a TSU student. This year the freshman class also made history as they attended the first Freshmen Convocation and Picnic. Both PCO and the Freshmen Convocation served as roots to instill the true Trojan Spirit and introduce the many branches of TSU.

PCO leaders show freshmen how to step to the college beat.

? Somewhere As A

As the newness of college life wore off and the freshmen year ended, the sophomore year began.

Life as a sophomore varied greatly from that of a freshman. Sophomore students adjusted to the differences of college life; however, they were not quite established. Many times sophomores felt the need to be involved, to decide on a major field of study and to slow down on the regular Thursday night partying.

Regardless, at this point of their life, they did not quite know how to begin. They were caught "somewhere as a sophomore."

A Junior's Journey

The junior year of a college student was one of transition and drastic change. At this point, most students began to realize that there really was not much time left for decisions.

As students in the junior class began to pursue a major field of study, they recognized how their classes would soon relate to their careers.

Nightlife was still fun and going out was important because once college was over, there would not be much time for playing.

The junior year also brought more activities on campus for many students. New friends were made who shared similar career goals and ambitions.

A Senior's $uccess

As a senior, the final decisions of college were made. Some struggled to pull up their GPAs, while some just struggled to graduate. Schedules got more hectic and classes seemed to get harder. Most seniors realized that all of the hard work and long hours were finally worth it.

Resumes were prepared, job applications completed and interviews scheduled. The fear of facing the "real world" deepened.

As graduation approached, the senior stepped back and looked at the successful years spent as a student of TSU realizing that life as an alumni had only just begun.

Love is a member of the Society of Professional Journalists, Birmingham Chapter of the International Association Business Communicators and was past president of the Birmingham Area chapter of the Troy State Alumni Association.

Achievements

Michelle Krist

Michelle Krist graduated with honors from Troy State University and then went on to become a Certified Public Accountant. Krist is currently employed by the international accounting firm of Coopers and Lybrand in Atlanta, Georgia.

Krist has been employed with the firm for two years and currently works as an auditor. Her work involves preparing audits for both Securities and Exchange Commission and Non-SEC companies. She has worked with companies in several industries such as telecommunications, mutual funds, healthcare and colleges and universities.

While attending TSU, Krist served on various committees and was a member of various organizations. Some of her activities included Alpha Gamma Delta and Omicron delta Kappa. She was also a member of Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities.

Forrest S. Latta

Forrest S. Latta graduated summa cum laude from Troy State University and cum laude from Cumberland School of Law at Samford University.

Latta is currently a member of the law firm Pierce Carr and Alford in Mobile, Alabama. Since he was admitted to the Alabama Bar in 1983, Latta has primarily practiced in the areas of corporate and insurance defense. He also serves as the legal adviser for the Troy State University National Alumni Association. Latta presently serves as a member of the Alabama Supreme Court's Standing Committee on Rules of Appellate Procedure. This committee reviews and recommends to the court changes in court rules.

Graduation

June 4th was a day of much emotion for the graduates of Troy State's class of 1993. With pride and excitement for a successful college career, also came a longing for the memories and friendships cherished at TSU. Upon the receiving of a diploma and a well earned degree, graduates awaited the daring differences that lie ahead eager to make a difference in the world they were about to enter.

Honors Convocation

The Honors Convocation was a memorable evening for students and faculty who were awarded for their excellence in academics.

This year's recipient of the Ingall's Award was Dr. DiNicola-Orlofsky. This award is the highest teaching award given at TSU. Dr. DiNicola-Orlofsky was a professor in the music department where she gave unselfishly of her time and talent to students.

The winners of the Algernon Sidney Sullivan were Shelly Weatherford and Antjuan Marsh. These awards were given annually to one female and one male graduating student. Spiritual qualities such as dedication, honesty and compassion were evaluated when choosing the winners.

Many other students were recognized for their achievements in various departments. The night was a special one for all students and faculty as everyone celebrated new inductees to the various honor societies as well as special award winners.

Homecoming

Homecoming 1992 brought death to the 'dogs.'

"Under The Big Top" was the Homecoming theme for 1992. The week included festivities to promote Trojan spirit and pride. Organizations competed in skits and yard displays as well as with pep rally spirit and banners each centering around the circus theme. The week proved to be enjoyable for everyone and offered a great way to display love and support for the Trojans.

Under The Big Top

Troy State University's Alumni of the Year were a main attraction during Homecoming 1992. Alumni were honored in education, business and the military.

Ms. Willodene Farrell dedicated countless hours to Troy State. She was a charter member of the TSU Southwest Alumni Chapter and served as a member of the Mobile County Public School system.

During his 25 years since graduating with a bachelor's degree in business administration and marketing, John Harrison climbed his way up the business ladder. Mr. Harrison paid tribute to his alma mater by serving on the TSU Steering Committee.

Col. Burnet Quick was commissioned in the U.S. Regular Army upon graduation from Troy State in 1965. Throughout his prestigious military career, Col. Quick earned 13 medals and awards.

The Troy State University Department of Speech and Theatre presented the world premiere of 'The Camel Shepherds,' a play by Ty Adams. This play was named winner of the New Orleans Contemporary Art Center's Festival of New Works. It possessed a strong theatrical sense in which Adams examined the problems that face people in our society.

City of Angels

On May 13-14 TSU Musical Theater presented 'City of Angels.' Based on the book by Larry Gelbart, this musical was set in Hollywood during the 1940's. The musical puts many actors in dual roles. The plot concerns that of Stine, a writer of fiction and his subject/alter ego, Stone. As the plot unfolds on Stine's typewriter, it unfolds on the other side of the stage.

With a blend of murder, intrigue, and seduction, it is a perfect depiction of the Golden Age of Hollywood.

Indigo Girls

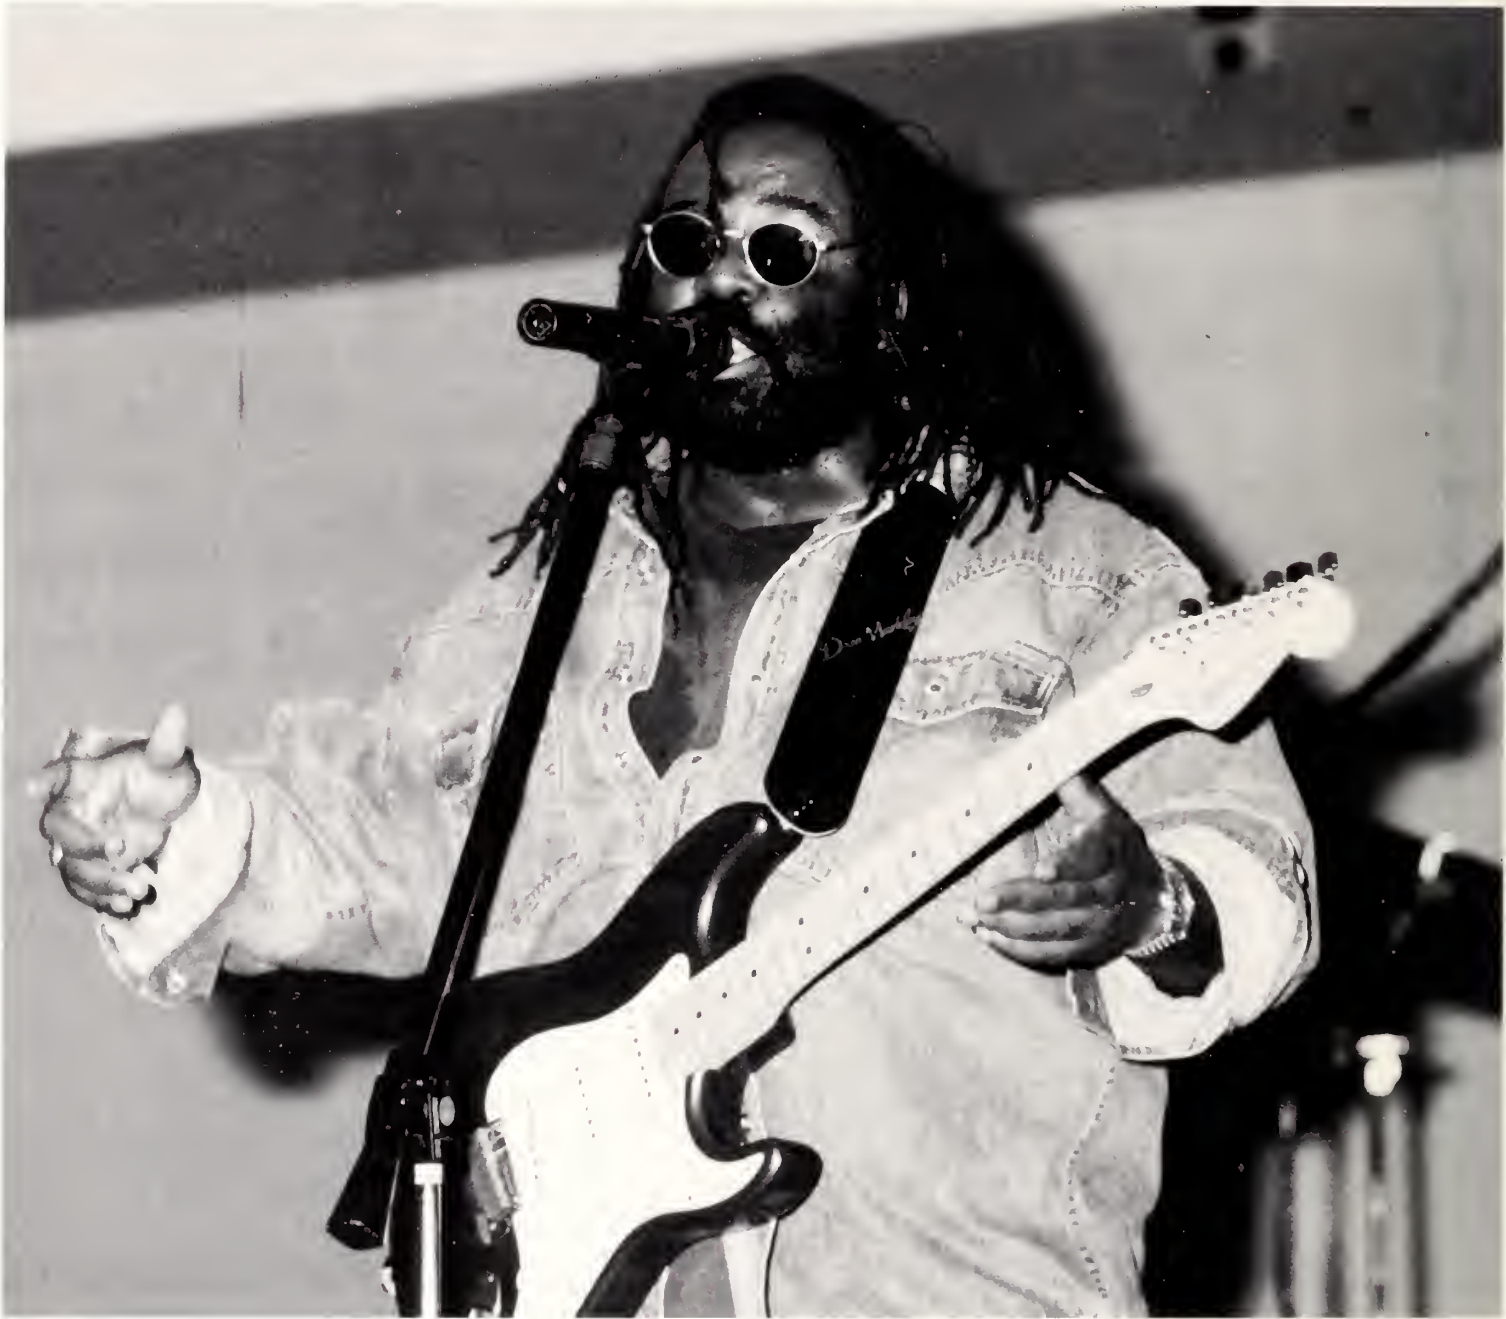

featuring Michelle Malone

The night of November 15, 1992, was full of excitement and entertainment as singer Michelle Malone opened for the group Indigo Girls. The concert was held in the Montgomery Civic Center and was sponsored by the Adams Center Union Board. The Indigo Girls performed top hits such as "Closer to Fine," "Ghost" and their recent "Galileo." The evening proved itself enjoyable for hundreds of TSU students and was considered a great way to end fall quarter.

Bigga

With a 'Hey Man' and dreadlocks, Bigga's lead singer displays true reggae.

Since reggae music can be heard around any pool side, ACUB sponored a spring reggae concert and pool picnic. With the opening of the new campus pool, students were found enjoying the food and fellowship as "Bigga" made their first debut at Troy State. The band proved to be a success as they encouraged audience participation and displayed much energy. "Bigga" was entertaining and was a great way to end spring quarter.

Reggae, a popular music trend, proved to be a success at the concert.

A high five is the finale to a reggae performance.

Different People From Different Places

People travel long and short distances to be a part of TSU. Three students tell what they like most about TSU and what attracted them.

Monodeep Mitra is a 22-year-old finance major from India. "I came to Troy because I was curious to know what it would be like to live in the South," said Mitra. "People here are very friendly and just sit around and talk about anything."

Monodeep Mitra

Michael Sibley is a 22-year-old advertising major from Boston. "I wanted to live somewhere different for a while," said Sibley. "I heard about Troy through some friends. I enjoy the small college atmosphere."

Michael Sibley

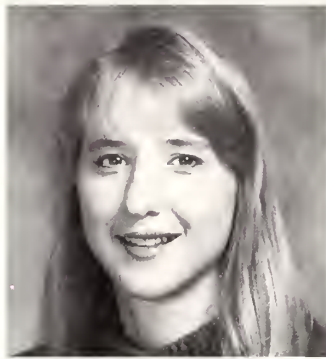

Ronda McCaul is a 21-year-old political science / history major from Montgomery. "The first time I visited Troy's campus I fell in love with it," said McCaul. "Everyone was so nice, and the campus was the perfect size. Most of all, I like how the teachers call me by name."

Panhellenic

The Panhellenic Council was a group of young women selected to serve as governing body of all sororities. Each sorority chose two delegates to represent their sorority. Panhellenic served the community by blood drives, recycling, RUSH workshops, and an educational session. Panhellenic promoted a spirit of sisterhood as well as a positive image of Greek life.

Greek Week '93

Greek Week was a time for sororities and fraternities to work together. The week began with the traditional torch run. The organizations participated in events including intertube basketball, sand volleyball, canoe races, hot shot basketball, swimming, ping pong, billiards, and field events. The overall winners of the week were Kappa Delta sorority and Pi Kappa Phi fraternity. The week included a car wash that raised money for Capp Peers. Greek Week was not just a time for bonding but also time to learn about Greek loyalty, love and sportsmanship.

Tackling Another

The Troy State University Trojans blasted their way through another record breaking season with 10 regular season game wins. Only four other Trojan teams won as many: the three national championship teams of 1968, 1984, and 1987, and the 1986 semi-finalists.

The Trojan team had a tough line up in 1992. It included one Division I-A and eight Division I-AA opponents.

The Trojan team finished the season with two consecutive shut-outs. One of those was Georgia Southern on their own home field.

Troy State was fully eligible for NCAA I-AA playoffs in 1993. The coaches, headed by Larry Blakeney, worried about replacing 18 graduating seniors.

"You set high goals before the season starts," said Blakeney. "And you try to play the best you can every week, and see if it all comes together."

The Best

The TSU Baseball Team was ranked third in the nation in the Division II playoffs after losing 4-3 to defending National Champion Tampa in the semi-finals at Montgomery's Patterson Field.

The Trojans were tied 3-3 in the seventh inning with one out and runners at first and second. A dynamic double-play by Tampa brought the Trojans dreams crashing down and crushed their hopes for a national championship title.

High Scoring' Hoops

The 1992-93 Trojan Basketball Team did not disappoint fans. During regular season it had a record of 23-4 and made itself a threatening opponent in its move to Division I. TSU became a household name in the 1991-92 season with its record breaking 258 game, and this group continued to be a high-scoring team. The three-point shot was still a dangerous weapon.

Head Coach Don Maestri laid a solid foundation for TSU'S basketball program in his years at Troy State. He engineered a staggering string of winning and record breaking seasons. With the talent and spirit Maestri lined up for the 1993-94 season, Troy State University has a bright future.

Lady Trojans '93

The 1992-93 version of the Lady Trojan Basketball team was a true combination of exciting youth and experience. The '92-'93 schedule included battles with former Gulf South Conference rivals North Alabama, West Georgia and Jacksonville State. The Lady Trojans also clashed with Albany State and Tuskegee. Added to the schedule this year was intrastate rival Alabama State and a Division I tournament.

Getting Into the

Troy State's golf team wanted to celebrate its final year in NCAA Division II with a fourth national championship. TSU won Division II titles in 1976, 1977 and 1984, and last year's team finished second in the nation. In its final tournament of 1992, the Trojans served notice that they were one of the nation's finest teams when they posted a victory in the Citrus Bowl Championship on Nov. 15-16. TSU fired a 294-304-292-890 over the Ekana Country Club course and finished five strokes ahead of runnerup, Jacksonville State in the 15-team tournament, which featured the top Division II teams in the South Region. Valdosta State was third at 899, and host team Rollins finished fourth at 913. Sophomore Kevin Blanton, of Moultrie, Ga., shot a 74-73-73-220 to finish in a tie for second. Transfer Jeff Taylor of Montgomery finished fourth overall with a 70-79-72-221. Matt Robbins of Alpharetta, Ga., finished 12th in Orlando. He gained recognition last summer by advancing to the U.S. Amateur Tournament at Muirfield Village in Columbus, Ohio. After the fall, the players were well seasoned and prepared to make a fine showing during the last year in Division II.

MORE THAN JUST A GAME

The Troy State Trojan Basketball team was full of courage, charisma and burning desire to be the best. Along each step of this team's struggle to the Division II Championship, one thing was always obvious. They were determined, focused, and tearful competitors in a run for the Division II title.

This was the Trojans first trip to the finals, their best finish in school history. They finished fourth in the nation in 1988.

The 85-72 loss to California State-Bakersville was heartbreaking, but with such dedicated coaches and outstanding players things looked good for Troy State.

Trojan Baseball Action

The Troy State University Baseball team proved to be on the move during the 92-93 season. The TSU athletic program completed its final year of compliance before completing to upgrade to Division I in baseball. The Trojan pitching staff was decimated following the 1992 season. Returning pitchers totaled only 61 2/3 innings out of 393 innings pitched last year. Troy State had the luxury of three catchers capable of sharing the assignment in 1993 with Chris Hummell the leading contributor. Billy Price returned for his final campaign in 1993. There was an extremely competitive situation at second base. Tony Brown excelled defensively, Chris Favale had tremendous offensive numbers, and Jimmy Martorana hit .360 this fall and was the team's most versatile infielder. Will Green played third base with a spectacular performance on the field. Junior James Graves returned to anchor the Trojan outfield. Three outstanding recruits contended for outfield. The great tradition of success attained by Troy State Division II level combined with great community support has served as a great positive. The schedule for 1993 was upgraded and included many NCAA I opponents from around the nation.

DARE TO BE DIFFERENT

"If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him march to the music that he hears, no matter how measured or far away."

Henry David Thoreau

The famous Henry David Thoreau quotation demonstrates two important philosophies of life. First of all, it is a challenge to be an individual. It is an admonition to find that unique niche in life that will allow each of us to demonstrate the unique gifts that have been endowed upon us. Second, and perhaps more important, it is a challenge to be open minded and accepting of the differences that we find within our fellow man.

Dare to be different. Dare to stand out in the crowd. Dare to be innovative and experimental in your life. Be also mindful of the uniqueness of others. Understand their differences. Learn from their attitudes. Respect their opinions. Encourage diversity in others.

Daring to be different is what Troy State University is all about. Diversity of opportunity. Diversity of attitude. Diversity of background. Diversity of people.

I am most proud of the diversity that can be found across our beautiful campus. While TSU is an all-American university reflecting the overall demographics of our society, it is truly a unique place to get an education. I am proud of the heritage of the common working people of south Alabama and the various paths each ones forefathers traveled to bring their families to this final decade of the 20th century. Countless hardships blocked their way, but these pioneers moved forward and instilled in their prodigy a tenacious spirit.

Diversity of culture and experience has always been a part of the heritage of the south, of Alabama and of TSU. The exciting part of this diversity is that we have learned to accept our differences and share our unique experiences in a positive manner. The heritage of the Wiregrass Region has been that each person's talent is as important as another's. Farmers raised crops, weavers made cloth, carpenters built buildings, teachers taught our children, merchants marketed goods, bankers provided institutions for saving money and found ways to make capital available for worthy projects. Together these daring people began to dream of things greater than their individuality.

In this area, some one-hundred-fifty years ago, men who dared to be different dreamed of a city to serve the great diversity of the region. The City of Troy.

Had it not been for these daring individuals, we might not have the nearly 5,000 students that represent many states, many nations and many cultural backgrounds.

I see our multi-cultural heritage the vision of the 21st century. Our students have chosen broad fields of study. They have sought varied challenges for the future. And, our faculty has provided diversity of opportunity and experience to challenge each person to think critically and logically but to ever keep an open mind for some unforeseen and unexpected chance to excel in a new and unique endeavor. They have taught us through their example to find value in the differences of others and to benefit from sharing and understanding different attitudes, opinions and cultural backgrounds.

It is the challenge of yesterday, today and tomorrow. Be daring! Be different!

Don't let another direct your existence. Take charge of your life. Exalt in new accomplishments. Dream great things. Share your excitement with others.

Dare to be different.

UNIVERSITY

University College was organized Aug. 1, 1981 as the College of Special Programs. In 1990, after much growth, it became University College. It maintains its primary purpose which is the administration and standardization of all off-campus locations.

Troy State University through the University College has six regional areas: Europe, Pacific, Florida, Fort Benning, Atlantic and Southwest. Additionally, University College's growing program has teaching sites in Fort Bragg, N.C.; Shaw AFB, S.C.; two in New Mexico(White Sands and Holloman); Davis-Monthan, Ariz.; eight in Virginia, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; New Orleans, L.A..

In the Fall of 1992 there were 9,000 graduate and undergraduate students enrolled.

The University College offers degree programs in Business, Administration, Management, Public Administration, Applied Science, International Relations, Education and much more.

Money Grows On Your Trees.

Your timberland could produce a hardy second income. Big timber demand has created a sellers' market, and mills and paper companies are now paying high prices to timber growers.

We can help you get the highest price for your timber.

We know the mills and will shop them to seek the highest bid for your trees.

We'll handle every detail for you. From contract to cutting — so your interests are protected.

See how much you could make by selling your trees.

To: Love And Sweetness, Dispersed
in June

For years you've played your music
For others to hear and enjoy,
But now's the time to move on.

Today you're having to leave behind
The familiarity you've known,
To take the step beyond.

It's your turn to play the music for yourself;
To enjoy not only the playing of it,
But the MAKING of it as well.

I've enjoyed hearing you play your songs,
And only wish that I could help you
As you create new ones.

I hope that I might be an inspiration,
And that you have found as much joy as I have
In the sharing of our dreams.
May all of yours come true;
You deserve it.

I love you...

Always,
Your Special Friend

up all night...

You and the roommate are cruising around town at about midnight when you decide to stop by and get something to eat. Your roommate doesn't have a checkbook and you left yours back at the house. All that's left is to drive all the way back home and get the checkbook, right?

Wrong.

Don't sweat it. Troy Bank and Trust is there. We offer four automated teller machines so you can get your money at ANYtime - day or night. We know that most college students usually need their money at some pretty unusual times. So when you need to get to your money, or just get some help figuring out where that last twenty bucks went, we can help.

EDITOR'S NOTE

ONE YEAR AND 320 PAGES LATER.....

It is hard to believe that the year is finally over and the final production of the 1993 PALLADIUM is completed. Being co-editors, we had many new challenges to face. In the beginning we had the task of developing a theme and designing a cover. The concept that appealed to us the most was the diversity of TSU: different people, different majors, different athletics, different organizations. Thus, the theme "Dare to be Different" was born.

Once that was achieved, the real work began. The first bridge we had to cross was the three new computers in our office (of which NO ONE had any idea how to use). Even after the staff's little workshop with Todd, all of us were still confused and scared to touch them. But finally, the realization that if the yearbook was going to be published, we would have to learn how to use the computers. So, the whole staff learned by experience and from mistakes. Drawing layouts and writing copy soon became an easy task and we weren't afraid anymore.

The second bridge we had to cross was our first deadline. Realizing that neither of us knew how to submit a disk, we were lost. But after screaming at the computer and pulling our hair out, we finally figured out the whole process and our first deadline was in the mail (with smiley faces drawn all over the box).

This book could not have been possible if it weren't for wonderful support from the faculty, staff, friends and family. We thank Mr. McKerral for being our leader. If it weren't for you, we would be lost and our whole office would still be a mess. We wish for you a lifetime supply of toner cartridges and a $58 photo. Thank you to Donald, Ed, and the TSU photography staff for your patience and understanding. We appreciate our representatives, Carol Dukelow and Frank Meyers, for being so helpful and nice. Another big thanks goes to our computer representative, Todd Clontz, who patiently guided us through the development of the index.

An extra BIG thanks and many hugs go to our wonderful staff: Jen, Dee, Cassie, Mendy, Marvin, Tonya, Brooke, Diana, Penny and Mary. Also thanks to Phillip, Debbie, and our other volunteers who helped out when needed. Along with making closer friendships, many memories were made: Paula's collection of toys from Happy Meals, Ang's lovely rendition of "The Love Boat" theme song, deep discussions with Marv while hounding him to do his pages ahead of time, "doggie," early mornings spent tiptoeing around the Adams Center with a cropper and ruler in hand for defense, having Jen and Dee for role models, Cassie's cropping 64 pictures with a ball point pen, Mendy's CLEAN desk, a wedding date for Brooke, Diana's road trips, Tonya's stressed sports section, Penny's love stories, and a big welcome for Mary.

As co-editors we have finally crossed the third and last bridge: the end of the book. Now that we have finally mailed our last deadline with that big HOT pink "Final Pages" sticker on the box, we are excited, happy and feel a great deal of accomplishment.

It is now your turn! We hope that you enjoyed this edition of the PALLADIUM with the idea that TSU is a diverse university with various activities, people, organizations, sports and so much more. Dare to be unique. Dare to be a leader. Dare to make your dreams come true. DARE TO BE DIFFERENT!

Ang & Paula
